Schauer was shaky in the tenth. Dauhert singled. Stengel hit hard, but Mc-Kechnie's firebrand stop killed the slam and converted it into a force of Dau-bert. Wheat filed to Burns. All right for the Rube so far, but now he wabbled again. He passed Mowrey. Next a passed ball; then, after getting himself in a hole with Cutshaw, he grooved one and Cutshaw pickled it. The pick-ling meant two runs. After Cutshaw came Olson, who had been feeble with the bat all day and was again so. It then became apparent that it was a mistake not to walk Cutshaw and lay for Olson, but that was the second guess, which is always right. It has been said that when Doyle hits

Relative to the protest filed with this office by the Pittsburg club, as of date the 21st ultimo, on a ruling of the umpire in game of the previous day and based upon proper constructon of section bases—By McMahon, 10; by O'Connor, 9. First base on balls—Off McMahon, 2; off O'Connor, 1.

"If a coacher at third base touch or cold a base runner at third base or a base unner at third base or a base unner who is rounding third base for some plate the umptre shall declare such asse runner out."

From the time the rule was originally dopted it has been enforced exactly as written, and in its enforcement the Pittsburg club has neither here favored nor adopted it has been enforced exactiv as written, and in its enforcement the Pittsburg club has neither been favored nor discriminated against. Hence, since the umpire was absolutely right in his decision, the Pittsburg club's protest cannot be allowed.

I might add that within five minutes before Manager Callahan touched the runner he was warned once by Umpire Hyron and twice by Umpire Quigley not to do so. To both of them he stated that he was not going to touch anybody, but unquestionably he did so and, under the rules, the runner was called out.

I personally witnessed the occurrence, and realizing that under such circumstances a strict interpretation of the letter of the rule militated against the interest and sportsmanilke conduct of the game, I exercised the prerogative that is given to the president of the league to make such construction of the rule as would bring it more within its intent and to what I believed an enhancement of the game's interest, and which I hope is entirely satisfactory to all club owners.
